

FlushSash Windows

with the Network VEKA difference...

A combination of traditional styling and modern performance, FlushSash is the perfect replacement window for heritage properties.

It helps to have an guaranteed expert on your side...

There's no substitute for the feeling of history and occasion that seems to permeate the walls of a period property.

Heritage buildings have their drawbacks though, often being associated with damp and draughty living conditions due to ill-fitting windows or ineffective single glazing.

FlushSash is the perfect window solution for those who wish to retain the simple, classic lines of traditional timber-framed windows but want the benefits of a modern-day PVC-U system too. Its early 19th century-inspired design makes FlushSash ideal for those undertaking home improvements in conservation areas where authentic looks are all important.

Available with either double or triple glazing, FlushSash's five-chamber PVC-U frames boast outstanding energy efficiency, helping you make big savings on your heating bills. You'll also appreciate FlushSash's distinctly modern noise-reduction performance, making your home a peaceful haven of quiet and warmth.

Where contemporary chamfered and sculptured styles are designed to add contour and detail to your windows, FlushSash, as the name suggests, sits flush within the frame, offering traditional, understated elegance. It is easily tailored to the design of your home, being available in a wide range of colour and woodgrain finishes.

There's even the option to have different finishes on each side of the frame – perfect for complementing your interior design scheme.

With impressive security credentials alongside the long-life, low-maintenance and insurance-backed guarantees associated with all Network VEKA installations, FlushSash windows come with peace of mind as standard!
